(Dave Kirby - Warren Robb)

Me and that ole sunshine is sinking mighty low
The difference is that lucky sun has got some place to go
This whiskey world I'm living in is not where I want to be
If I lay down the bottle would you lay back down with me.

I really mean it this time cross my heart
I didn't take a drink today at least that's a start
I'm beggin' you like I should do right down on my knees
If I lay down the bottle would you lay back down with
me.

My life seems like it's been a thousand bad dreams ago
The whiskey had me all dressed up with no place to go Can your mind remember the man I used to be
If I lay down the bottle would you lay back down with
me.

I really mean it this time cross my heart
I didn't take a drink today at least that's a start
I'm beggin' you like I should do right down on my knees
If I lay down the bottle would you lay back down with me...
