(Dan Mitchell - Johnny McColumn)
Moe Bandy & Judy Bailey

It was some misunderstanding who neglected who
You put all the blame on me I put it all on you
We tried to go our separate ways but love would not give in
We put it back together now it's you and me again.

It's you and me again
No true love ever ends
Who says broken hearts don't mend
It's you and me again.

--- Instrumental ---

Two fools have learned a lesson in the game of broken hearts
You seldom get a second chance once love falls apart
But this time it's forever we're the best we've ever been Love put us back together now it's you and me again.

It's you and me again
No true love ever ends
Who says broken hearts don't mend
It's you and me again.

Who says broken hearts don't mend
It's you and me again...
