Well, I've just left my home friends where I couldn't sleep
For missin' a man that I couldn't keep
She just walked out and left me for somebody else
Now her memory keeps haunting me but I'm by myself.

So break out the bottle bring on the crowd
Tell funny stories turn the jukebox up loud
Come on sit at my table where the drinks're on me
Yes, gather round me 'cause misery loves company.

--- Instrumental ---

This is not the first time I lost everything
To a false hearted woman with a false hearted dream
But this is the first time I've suffered myself Help me get over this love I'll handle the next love all by myself.

So break out the bottle bring on the crowd
Tell funny stories turn the jukebox up loud
Come on sit at my table where the drinks're on me
Yes, gather round me 'cause misery loves company.

Yes, gather round me 'cause misery loves company...
