This wild crazy look in my eyes
Only means I'm trying to drink her from my mind
And as I watch her at the bar with all those men around I know before closin' time one or two won't be turned down.

She's everybody's woman and I'm nobody's man I'm starving for her love but she's got more than she can stand
I'm watching my world melt like castles in the sand
She's everybody's woman and I'm nobody's man.

--- Instrumental ---

Once she thought I was the only man
But when I cheated every night it made her understand
That she don't have to live a life of staying home alone
Even those I cheated with don't want a man that's all stone.

She's everybody's woman and I'm nobody's man
I'm starving for her love but she's got more than she
can stand
I'm watching my world melt like castles in the sand
She's everybody's woman and I'm nobody's man.

She's everybody's woman and I'm nobody's man...
