(Dan Mitchell)

I stopped hurting today at least as much as I ever will
I stopped crying today and let my broken heart heal
I quit fooling myself I admitted that we're through
Oh, day I almost stopped loving you.

I stopped caring today at least as much as I ever will
I stopped remembering today it's like time stood still
I quit reliving the past and all we used to do
Oh, today I almost stopped loving you.

Today I thought it over and I guess I always knew
That for me to go on living I must stop loving you.

I started smiling today at least as much as I ever will
I started living today an empty life you'll never fill
I say I'm ready for tomorrow but my heart knows it's not true
Oh, today I almost stopped loving you.

Yes, today I almost stopped loving you...
