I broke your wings.
I shattered your halo.
I still don't what it means.
Yet I claim your an angel.

So smile, smile gorgeous because you fucking broke me.
And i'm proud to say you brought me here...
And I know you're proud too.
So smile, smile my only hope.
It lies within you.
...Within you.

So lift your skirt, and sever all your ties.
So remove your shirt, and i'll give you my best shot.

So smile, smile gorgeous and flash me those pearly whites.
And wear your serrated neck like a pendant of friendship, a token of mistrust and despair.
So listen lover, liar, you'd better never close your eyes.
And take these broken wings and learn to fly.

But tonight even the sky is turning you down again, we all know how it ends, we all know how it ends, we all know just how this ends.

We all know just how this ends, when your wall is wearing thin. I'll never make love in your part of town again. I'll never cross that line that divides us. I'll never cross that line again. Nice shot you missed. Nice shot you missed. Nice shot you missed.
Kisses. Kisses. Kisses. Kisses. I hope you choke on them.
