NEON RAINBOW

(Wayne/Carson/Thompson)

BOX TOPS - 1968

The city lights, the pretty lights they can warm the coldest nights
all the people going places smiling with electric faces what they find the glow erases what they've lost the glow replaces, and life is love.
In a neon rainbow, a neon rainbow.
Moving lights, flashing sights blinking faster than your mind leading people with suggestions leaving no unanswered questions you can live without direction and if don't have to be affection, and life is love.
In a neon rainbow, a neon rainbow.
But in the daytime everything changes nothing remains the same, no one smiles anymore and no one left open his door until the night time comes, and then there ...
City lights, the pretty lights
they can warm the coldest nights
all the people going places smiling with the electric faces
what they find the glow erases and what they've lost the glow replaces, and life is love.
In a neon rainbow, a neon rainbow, a neon rainbow.
