Heaven sends me, wait a day
I guess I'm lucky for once in my life
I thought I'd see you once again my friend
But I guess It's not my time
Better start thinking twice

For once in my life
So I will remember and not take another day for Granted, let's face it
Better live it like there's no tomorrow
I will remember and not take another day for granted
For once in my life
For once in my life

Inside out I turn this question
Why that?????? is still standing here
Won't you tell me
Was I wrong? Was I right?
I'm tired of the guilty feeling inside my mind
It's just your second chance, better start thinking twice

For once in your life
So I will remember and not take another day for Granted, let's face it
Better live it like there's no tomorrow
I will remember and not take another day for granted
For once in my life
In my life

Why don't you quit trying to be the monologue of regrets
For saying another????? to forget

Never say never, made my peace with the maker

Raise a glass to the past and the future
Say a toast to the ones we remember

Never say never, make your peace with the maker
Make your peace with the maker

So I will remember and not take another day for

Granted, let's face it
Better live it like there's no tomorrow
I will remember and not take another day for granted
For once in my life, In my life
For once in my life
