I can remember the first time I saw you
I can't believe that the magic is gone
You say you're still feeling love, but it's not true
I try to tell you it's all said and done

You say you change, but I'm so sorry baby
I've got one question, what took you so long?
I play for keeps now, and there ain't no maybe
It's hard to tell, so I'll sing you a song,

Bye bye baby, I will see you maybe
Bye bye baby, anywhere somehow
Bye bye baby, someday I'll be waiting
Please don't cry, bye bye

It's been for too long the same sad old story
Don't close your eyes, so you will see the truth
I won't regret what I'm doing, I'm sorry
Our paradise turned into waterloo

The silly game we were playing is over
So please don't tell me I'm doing you wrong
Just try to see there's no reason to glower
It's hard to tell, so I'll sing you a song

Bye bye baby, I will see you maybe
Bye bye baby, anywhere somehow
Bye bye baby, someday I'll be waiting
Please don't cry, bye bye
