In Every life there will be times
Where you are simply hypnotized

Cause Someone new just hit your heart
You'll get yo learn love from the start

And you'll be each other's side
By day and by night
Well there will be no need to hide
With your guide

Give a little little love and you'll get it back
When you see the stars above there is no regret
With a little little love you will get it back
The magic that surrounds you, you'll never forget

One moment will change everything
And you will feel your heart could sing

When someone got a crush on you
You'll get to learn a love so true

And you'll be each other's side
By day and by night
Well there will be no need to hide
With your guide

Give a little little love and you'll get it back
When you see the stars above there is no regret
With a little little love you will get it back
The magic that surrounds you, you'll never forget
