

Blackened "Revenge Be Mine"

spoken:

gods of war

I seldom prayed to you

once I was a king

strong and proud

a man of deeds - defender of the weak - once now it seems my journey finally comes to an end let me die not of age and weakness let me die with the sword in my hand bringing death to those who betrayed me

I only ask you to grant me one last request grant me revenge!

Oblivion shall reign on through the night the days of old have passed the joy and laughter died it seems like I'm the last who knows of times so longly gone annihilation we did face there's only one thing to be done

Refrain:

all this pain inside can't fill the dark they left behind memories of ancient times revenge be mine

facing death down on your knees my bloodred blade shows you the sign my painful search came to an end finally revenge is mine!
