

Blow "Mirror"

Visit "Mirror" on MotoLyrics.com

Away from where the streets are paved with gold
She just wants to be shown
That her mind cannot be sold
She was found guilty before her birth
Sinner till the end of earth
I pray her steps won't be astraid now

And the mirror shows her face
She thought she'd been somebody else
Thrown her life away like no one did before
She can't keep her acted face
when the truth comes ringing bells
And she has been the one accused for all so long

Well she has lost her life too young
Thinking back what she could've done
But she just watched the time go by Now she has to walk a path unknown
And this time she's on her own
Because she left no trace behind

And the mirror shows her face
She thought she'd been somebody else
Thrown her life away like no one did before
She can't keep her acted face
When the truth comes ringing bells
And she has been the one accused for all so long

When mirror is your place
There's no use in hiding your face
Cause people see you as a ghost

Visit Blow page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.