Is this what's fucking with your head
Your mind in the future and with the dead
Turning the black from blue to red
This kills the best intentions

All that you need
Just throw it away
All that you see
Just throw it away
'Cause after all it don't matter anyway

Is something wrong with us again
It's so hard to keep faking it
Your demons get the best of us

All that you need
Just throw it away
All that you see
Just throw it away
'Cause after all you say
You're born again with every breath you take
