Born into this world of fairytales
Where perception lives and reality exists
Only in the back of our minds

Keep filling purple skys with mushroom clouds
On wings of butterflys that erase our conscience

Are we living here
In this Wonderland
Is there comfort here
In this Wonderland

Wear this to fit in can't escape the trend
We'll slip it in like a drug
We'll make you see what's beautiful
Never settling into her eyes
For fear of the next wave of discontentment

Are we living here
In this Wonderland
Is there comfort here
In this Wonderland
Are we really here
In this Wonderland

Wake me from this dream
That keeps me sleeping
Save me from my confusion
Living in this world of illusion
Lift me above this cloud of complacency
