I stare forever in those eyes
The energy; it pulls me in
So let's leave them all behind (in a dreamworld)

A dimly lit sky, with you by my side
An endless road, with nowhere to go
The sun starts to fade, but we both aren't afraid
The stars are revealing their evening glow Dark and slightly cold, lay your head on my shoulder when the nights get colder Hoping we'll grow old, together forever we'll never be severed.

Lay your head down baby, when I'm not there
Drift into sleep, and I'll meet you there

In a dreamworld forever yours, the sky falls upon us
while our love soars
In a dreamworld forever mine, I'll hold you in my arms until the end of time

x2

So let's escape from everything, and everyone in this place
Let me lie my lips upon yours while gently holding your face
But if there comes a time when I'm not by your side Just close your eyes and drift away, and you'll know where to find me.
I'll be right there

Lay your head down baby, when I'm not there
Drift into sleep, and I'll meet you there

In a dreamworld forever yours, the sky falls upon us
while our love soars
In a dreamworld forever mine, I'll hold you in my arms
until the end of time
x2

I stare forever in those eyes

The energy; it pulls me in
So let's leave them all behind (in a dreamworld)
