A little boy holding tight
To his mother hands tonight
He doesn't want her to go away
Oh, She worked so hard, only to fall so far

Can't find the words to say
It's not too late (No, it's not over)
It's not too late
Stay
Stay right where you are
You stand when you feel like you'd can fall

Your gonna make it through
Your gonna find a way
To stay

Now she's holding tight
To the paries of life
Thinks of all the things she could change
Now he opens his eyes to all of the sacrifice
What's better to be repaided

It's not too late (No, it's not over)
It's not too late
Stay
Stay right where you are
You'd Stand when you feel like you can fall
Your gonna make it through
Your gonna find a way
To stay
To stay
