There's no one here so you can stop pretending
This is ending tonight
Your frozen smile can't hide just what you're thinking now
It's time to close your eyes
Find the truth in all the lies
But you can't do it on your own

When you're starry-eyed
You'll forget your past regrets
You won't remember anything
That brings you down or caused you pain
He will pull you through
The One who made those stars for you
And He's writing out "I Love You" in the stars

Celestial stationary all around me
I've never felt so alive
We'll find just who we are beyond these city lights
Now it becomes so clear
You're the reason I am here
And you won't leave me on my own

When you're starry-eyed

You'll forget your past regrets
You won't remember anything
That brings you down or caused you pain
He will pull you through
The One who made those stars for you
And He's writing out "I Love You" in the stars

It's time to close your eyes
Find the truth in all the lies
But you can't do it on your own
Now it becomes so clear
You're the reason I am here
And you won't leave me on my own

When you're starry-eyed
You'll forget your past regrets
You won't remember anything

That brings you down or caused you pain
He will pull you through
The One who made those stars for you
And He's writing out "I Love You" in the stars
