I can't get what I want
Stood up shot down and it's all happening again
Guess I gotta learn everything the hard way
I'll get right back up and do it all over again

All messed up no place to go
The only way I've ever known
All messed up no place to go

You don't know what you want
Come on and show me something
I haven't seen before
You're talking like you got it together
But it's nothing I haven't seen a thousand time before

All messed up no place to go
The only way I've ever known
All messed up no place to go

I'm sick I'm tired and so dead up
Where's the newest scene and what's the latest sound
Can't you see it's all been done before
And you can't see it cause you just weren't around

All messed up no place to go
The only way I've ever known
All messed up no place to go
