This, this a dark this is a place I can't escape would you leave me here Lying in wait hanging like baits strangled by fate would you even care
This is my cure this is my life this is my Christ my crow of thorns
This is the way the way that I die, die and be reborn Dying to touch you I need you I love you to make me to mold me to break me again I can't deny that I'm hurting inside as I'm pulling you close you push me away
As I look just to find my existence and open my eyes
I can't breath as you push me aside Now I feel that it's time to die as I realize how you let me believe in a lie As i struggle with both hands and

I try to arise from the sadness inside of myself I cannot breath I'm burning alive cause I've lived through a season in hell Look, look at my face shaded in gray wasting away I'm almost gone
I can replace this empty space you left me all alone Why can't you see me I'm hanging here bleeding it's tortured and twisting my insides apart, laughing and crying as ever things dying in me and it's breaking my heart Save me now
I'm in the show of your love Can you feel your life pass you by Can you see the sun in the sky Life is calling you again, again
Can you feel the end?
