where is the answer and where is the game and where is the solace you seek in this your season of pain and where is the future and where are the signs and where is the truth you believe on this the last day of your life
now say goodbye
so tell me now
how can we survive
when our world is broken we're burned and crucified when the lies are spoke the light can't break through this is the ending this is the time and this is the day of our judgment look up to that hole in the sky can you believe it can you deny and can you hold on to your life as it just passes you by now shut your eyes
the time stops again
tell me now how to make things right come wipe these tears from my eyes
we're burned and crucified (crucified) when the lies are spoke (lies are spoken) how can we survive (lies are spoken) lies are spoken
and time ticks away
tick tick away
