All I know is what I don't know

Which is a lot

And why I am the am I am

Cause I ain't the am I'm not

You don't have to worry about me

You know I'm gonna be alright

I might have been born yesterday

But I stayed up all night

And I've found

The short time I've been around

I don't take wooden nickels

For my silver dime

I set my watch three hours ahead

So I can be on time

I know the secret and the score

One thing's for certain that's for sure
