If you could surrender all your feelings on the way in Then I could lift you up to see what's underneath
The look in your eye gives me the go-ahead I'm after
And your smile gives me the confidence I need

I won't touch if you don't say
Lost my crutch, so I won't beg to let you live again
(To let you live again, to let you live again, to let you live again)

I see your curiosity is getting stronger
I see your defense, it's all but crumbling and weak
And if there was nothing in between us any longer
There was a gift to make your innocence retreat

I won't touch if you don't say
Lost my crutch, so I won't beg to let you live again
(Just let me live, I just wanna live)
I wanna live again
(Just let me live, I just wanna live)
I could be your friend
(Just let me live, I just wanna live)
Just let me live again
(Just let me live, I just wanna live)

When all of the lights go out your body starts to tremble
There is a comfort in your soul that just won't leave
And I got a feeling I might not see you tomorrow
When all of the lights go out I see you in my dreams

'Cause I won't touch (to let you live again)
If you don't say (to let you live again)
Lost my crutch (to let you live again)
So I won't beg to let you live again
(Just let me live, I just wanna live)
I wanna live again
(Just let me live, I just wanna live)
I could be your friend
(Just let me live, I just wanna live)
Just let me live again
(Just let me live, I just wanna live)

To let you live again
To let you live again
To let you live again
