

Molly Magdalain "Why"

Visit "Why" on MotoLyrics.com

I've got a million little pieces,
I've got a thousand stairs to climb.
I've got a dream that lasts forever
and an emptiness I can't define.

What do you think as you look out the window,
What do you think as the world passes by.
What do you think, do you know why?

Why do I cry, why do I fear.
Why do I care it doesn't matter anymore
Cause I feel like steel but I'm still here.

What do you think as you look out the window,
What do you think as the world passes by.
What do you think, do you know why?

I've got a million little pieces,
I've got a thousand stairs to climb.
I've got a dream that lasts forever
And an emptiness I cannot quite define.

What do you think as you look out the window,
What do you think as the world passes by,
What do you think, do you know why?
