I wish I knew I'd never be the guy
Who looks back to all those years ago
And wonders why
Can you see the future in your past
And I ask how long can this last
Before we all go crashing down

And the future's just a road
And it all just goes to show
How long before we go crashing down
And it should be what we know
How long before I go
How long before I go crashing down

I think I know just where I'm going
How can I know how can I possibly Know what's going on

Can you see the future in your past
And I ask how long can this last
Before we all go crashing down
