Never in a million years would I let you go, only took one look at you, and you're the one I know, hit me fast like lightning strikes, caught me right off guard, came in like a hurricane and took away my hard - and took my heart.

I have met an angel - looked right into heaven,
when I layed my eyes on you.
I have met an angel - miracles can happen,
made my wildest dreams come true.

I can't stay away from you not a single day, when you smile the sun turns pale, and shadows fade away,
on the road to paradise, nothing stops me now, wanna love you sweet and wilde, will you show me how
- show me how.

I have met an angel - looked right into heaven,
when I layed my eyes on you.
I have met an angel - miracles can happen,
made my wildest dreams come true.

You're by far the brightest star that's shining down on me,
shine a kind of light that only hearts can see - hearts can see.

I have met an angel - looked right into heaven,
when I layed my eyes on you.
I have met an angel - miracles can happen,
made my wildest dreams come true€|.
