Come let me hold you - don't leave now, can't be over baby - we'll work it out somehow, is it rain that's falling - or could it be,
that tears run down your face.
Don't say a word - I'll understand, though my heart is breaking - I'll always be your friend, won't you think it over - I'd be right there, if you ever change your mind - true blue love is hard to find.

When ever you call me - call me,
say a word and I'll be waiting forever,
call me - call me,
let's start picking up the peaces together.

You'll stop you're wondering - girl I know, hope your heart remembers where to go, it's a new beginning - don't ask me why, let's open up the past - I know this time we will last.

When ever you call me - call me,
Say a word and I'll be waiting forever,
call me - call me,
let's start picking up the peaces together.

Who knows the reason why we drifted apart, who understands what makes the world turn.
All we can do is try to learn, just what ignites our fire girl what makes it burn.

When ever you call me - call me,
say a word and I'll be waiting forever,
call me - call me,
let's start picking up the peaces together.
Call me â€¦.
