"Boundaries"

Do i have your permission
To enter something that aint even yours?
Can i step foot on the ground
Where you murdered the people that were there before?
Do you really think you can control something
That was there before you existance?
Do you really think that you are that powerful?

We got invisible lines.
And chain linked fences to keep out the less fortunate.
We got armed guards.
And brick walls to symbolize our wealth.
Keep out undesirables.

How can you charge us
For utilizing something that's there for everyone?
How can you build walls
And still say we are all equals?
Do you really think you can control something
That was there before you existance?
Do you really think that you are that powerful?

We got invisible lines.
And chain linked fences to keep out the less fortunate.
We got armed guards.
And brick walls to symbolize our wealth.
Keep out undesirables.
