Wasted time wasted lives trying to have some fun
yeah.
The times were good and the times were bad but all
and all it was fun.
The time i spent with those friend i never thought it would end.
But now that times is gone so now i move on what happend to them.

Yeah we thought we were so cool. breaking all the rules.
But now everything has changed, were growing up.

9 to 5 was our demise why did it happen this time.
Places we went things we saw i don't think it was the end of us all
We fell apart we lost our heart maybe it was better that way.
But now time rolls on and everyones gone but i'll never forget those days.

When we thought we were so cool, breaking all the
rules.
But now everything has changed, were growing up.

And i'll never have so much fun again.
And i'll never have those friends again.
And now that time has gone.
So now i move on.

When we thought we were so cool, breaking all the
rules.
But now everything has changed, were growing up.
