This morning I've seen your face reflected on the river
And while I was walking through the forest
I could hear your voice
Finally I've sat down on a tree and I'm sure
You whisper words of love in my ear, in my ear

I'm thinking I'm going crazy, crazy 'bout you
'Cause I am sure that you are not here
You will never ever be here
You will never ever be here

I know that's the wrong way, but I still love you like
yesterday
You are in the depth of my heart and I can't forget you
Nor I don't want, nor I don't want

Listen to my heart, he knows he's beating for you And I don't know how to explain to him that you'll never come back
I'm scared to tell him he'll break down
And I couldn't repair him again, him again

We both have to accept our destiny, destiny that marked our lives
We're still in love

I know that's the wrong way, but I still love you like
yesterday
You are in the depth of my heart and I can't forget you
Nor I don't want, nor I don't want

I know that's the wrong way, but I still love you like
yesterday
You are in the depth of my heart and I can't forget you
Nor I don't want, nor I don't want

You're still the one
