I'm sitting right now here, looking at nowhere
And memories coming through my head
I'm not looking at the future instead

Million thousand promises I made being a child
I carried out just one or two
The others, like the wind, flied

And I'm ashamed that time runs fast
And don't stop, not for me
And if I wanna go somewhere
I have to run run run run run run

Never it's too late to be in charge with your life
I think that I can't wait to open that door
Go out and live my dreams

I have a look at my past life, is not as bad I swear Life shows me, oh too much, and makes me better and strong
I need to learn the words of L.I.F.E. and their simplicity I've to be proud of all I have and learn about my mistakes

And I'm ashamed that time runs fast
And don't stop, not for me
And if I wanna go somewhere
I have to run run run run run run

Never it's too late to be in charge with your life
I think that I can't wait to open that door
Go out and live my dreams

Yeah... Never it's too late

And I'm ashamed that time runs fast
And don't stop, not for me
And if I wanna go somewhere
I have to run run run run run run

Never it's too late to be in charge with your life
I think that I can't wait to open that door

Go out and live my dreams
