I still rest sitting on the damp sand
An extraordinary peace takes possession of me
I feel near the waves who carry a weak
But frozen breeze that makes me remember that day

Reminds stick like little daggers in the deep of my heart
Now you're not between my arms, in your place there is your diary
I've read it and I'm sure that my love for you
Is bigger and bigger everyday

I am here alone, thinking and missing all those days
Feeling sorry for myself, cause I'm not happy and
I'm not doing
All the things that I promised you and you wanted me
to do
I have no reason, no reason, for living without you
For living without you

You were my angel falling from the sky and I miss you
And I miss you too all those days we live together feeling so better
I know a love like ours could never die
I'm sure could never die

I am here alone, thinking and missing all those days
Feeling sorry for myself, cause I'm not happy and
I'm not doing
All the things that I promised you and you wanted me
to do
I have no reason, no reason, for living without you
For living without you
