I felt so lost
'Cause there was no one around
To cherish and hold
To give silence a sound

Then suddenly
A song filled the air
And I sensed the start
Of a new love affair

Could this be the bud, destined to bloom,
Or was this newborn love just crying for the moon

I want your love
I need your love
Honey can't you see
Honey you don't know
All the love in me
That I love you so
Is waiting to be found
Why can't you be mine

Dark rainy day
Clouds gathered inside
You were the sun
To lighten my mind

I remember your face
A beautiful boy
I crave your embrace
Your eyes full of joy

Stormy weather won't stand in my way
I wish this dawning love could see the light of day

I want your love
I need your love
Honey can't you see
Honey you don't know
All the love in me
That I love you so
Is waiting to be found

Why can't you be mine

I was looking for the lover of my life
This lonely winter longed for spring to arrive.
That you were meant for me I didn't realise.
'Till cupid's arrow hit me by surprise

I want your love
Honey can't you see
All the love in me
Is waiting to be found

I fell in love
'Cause you were around
To cherish and hold

Then suddenly
Autumn was there
And I saw the end
Of a new love love affair

I want your love
I need your love
Honey can't you see
Honey you don't know
All the love in me
That I love you so
Is waiting to be found
Why can't you be mine?
