I guess you could say
I've seen a lot
And most of it
I've forgot
If there's one thing I've learned along
Is not to stick my nose
where it don't belong

One way to go
Yet so many roads
How will we know?
I know the busses
I know the train
I've been searched by Customs and turned away
In legal terms
I was "Allowed to leave"
So always have a new trick up your sleeve

One way to go
Yet so many roads
How will we know?
Bridging the gap
Wipe New York off the map
Then, where will we go?
People like us
Can't be beaten down
We just push off to a friendlier town
People like us
make good neighbors We've seen enough of rattling sabers

One way to go
Yet so many roads
How will we know?
Bridging the gap
Wipe L.A. off the map

Then, where will we go?
