"Pregnant Pause"

I offer you some wine
You say it's not a mood
The cars on Shattuck Ave.
are quiet this afternoon
Waiting out rain with you
A pregnant pause that I do
It's days like these that pass
The Sun isn't forgotten
Pleasures of tilt and glass
Ex-lovers ganggreen and rotten
Waiting out rain with you
A pregnant pause that I do
And the hope that lives within you will cause the rain to bend and we will walk between them and all of this will come to an end
Look at this dirty pipe
Your mother will surely know
Your father too, I guess
My secret love, please go
Waiting out rain with you
A pregnant pause that I do
