It's a question that drives us
To where we must go It's the unknown that drives from us
What we want most But the firefly sits in the corner and rest

And it won't care if you stare
But believe me, it's best to let go Don't just, go with the flow

And the firefly comes to you sits on your finger it shatters and shakes but she wants you to go with her now follow her-out there

Firefly's spreading her wings open wide, thinks the sky will come crashing down, fall to her side she's afraid
But her fear's only faith

So fly with the firefly Fly side by side
Escaping the chains that held you from life
Don't look down,
You're over the edge

Jump, take a leap of faith
Jump, take a leap of faith

To where we must go, It's
the unkown that drives from us
what we want most but the firefly sits in the corner and rest

It's a question that drives us
Where we must go, It's
the unkown that drives from us
what we want most but,
the firefly sits in the corner and rest

Where we must go, It's
the unknown that drives from us
what we want most but,
the firefly sits in the corner and rest

Where we must go, It's
the unknown that drives from us
what we want most but,
