Here comes the roller coaster ride
Here come the things I show inside
Here comes the night for all it's worth

Here comes the making up your name
Here comes I always feel the same
Here comes the wind for all she's worth
I hear you had a birth

Here comes the ink under your skin
Here come the things I kept within
Here comes the rain and what comes next

Here comes the road that just went by
Here comes the always asking why
You scour the day for something left

I hear you had a death
I hear you had a birth
You can have this for what it's worth
