Take my hand
We'll make a plan
Take my name
We'll play this game
I will lay down my life for you
I will do what you want to do
With trust and sincerity
I will be what you want to be
Love and more
Love and more

Take my heart
We'll make a start
Take my soul
You make me whole
I would lay down my life for you
I will do what you want to do
With trust and sincerity
I will be what you want to be
Love and more
Love and more

On a mountain in New Mexico one bright and sunny day
A young man stood upon a ridge and rehearsed what he would say
In his hand he held a box made of velvet colored blue a ring... she knew...
And now they stand together on a mountain top once more
He'll take her hand; he'll rule the land
She's found a prince for sure
And all of this it started with a velvet box of blue
A dream... so true
So true...
So true...
So true...
