Wait a minute, can we stop the car right here
Can I take a picture here
Can I have a second just to take in all the sights
All the southern stars and northern lights
Wait a minute can we put aside the past
Can we make it something last for life

Say wrong, say right tonight
Say wrong, say right tonight

Wait a minute, can you play that song again
It makes me think about a friend
Can I have a second, can you take me back in time
Close my eyes and hear her voice her rhyme
Wait a minute can I say I'm sorry now
I admit I don't know how or why

Say wrong, say right tonight
(I need everything that you need)
(I breathe the same air that you breathe)
Say wrong, say right tonight
(I need everything that you need)
(I breathe the same air that you breathe)

And I've been wrong now for so long
I'm just trying to get it right

Say wrong, say right tonight
(I need everything that you need)
(I breathe the same air that you breathe)
Say wrong, say right tonight

Say wrong, say right tonight
(I need everything that you need)
(I breathe the same air that you breathe)
Say wrong, say right tonight
Say wrong, say right tonight
