Telephones, future Iâ'm fighting, just so complicated Iâ've tried technology, but it makes this life so much less like the old movies.

XOX don't mean to be forward,
But you've been on my mind and in every word I speak.
But Iâ'm just to scared to just speak to you.

Because Iâ'm all on my own
Trying to be where you call home
And Iâ'm all on my own
But somewhere where the Satellites still find me again.

Take my blood, quickly Iâ'm dying
XOX I miss you Iâ'm trying to fall asleep
Fall asleep in your arms digitally.

As you speak to me in 0's and 1's
My hope resides that one day you will come back to me.
And this life will be beautiful again.

Cause Iâ'm all on my own
Trying to be where you call home
Iâ'm all on my own.
But somewhere where the satellites still find me.
As I reach for the phone, still trying to find where I belong
As Iâ'm all on my own! Dying to find you through this new world once again!

Once Again.
Why cant I speak to you through this new world once again!
Again. Just trying to find you through this new world
once again!
