And you'll wake up to find that an angel has...

Stabbed you in the back
Riddled you with lies
Took away your peace
Silenced all your cries

Torn apart your mind
Rectified your pain
Parylized your tounge
Driven you insane

How could you forget this fire?
How could justice not be served?
When will truth be on my side?
When will I get what I deserve?

A thousand teardrops couldn't wash the dirt off of my Name
A royal pardon couldn't take away these years of shame

I will not be lost
I will not be found
Nailed inside a box
Six feet underground

How could you forget this fire?
How could justice not be served?
When will truth be on my side?
When will I get what I deserve?
