In ancient times, of age - old centuries, superior technology, by far surpassing ours, it was a time of vast achievement, that still defeats comprehension even in this day and age

There are signs of this obscure dimension, they are portals to the other side there are so many undeciphered scriptures, we are not yet able to read

Is it ignorance, that clouds our perception, or are we afraid, that we might see

They walked as rulers of the universe, falling to see, so many other things halted progress, stagnated thinking is why these cultures had to die

Surrounded by our advanced technology, yet we still don't open (up) our minds to heed the ominous portents around us, the legacy of extinct beings, a doorway to the other side

There are signs of this obscure dimension,
there are so many undeciphered scriptures,
we are not yet able to read,
and probably wouldn't comprehend, even if we could

Is it ignorance, that clouds our perception,
or are we afraid, that we might see

Are we the epitome of creation walking as rulers of the universe So many portents, so many warnings, but we cannot perceive the obvious signs

Never saw...Never saw...Never saw... their eyes Never heeded their signs...
You don't either...

Never saw their eyes...
You won't either
