I'm stuck in my head tonight I'm getting sick of it everything is just lost and it's the only place of it I'm stuck in indecision and everything's up in the air Life is just a traveling circus and I'm boldly going nowhere

And I feel so undervalued
And its going to stick everything I do I regret so I'm the one to blame for this

Just take what you need from me
I dont have to use it I'm simply running out of time and to have it is useless If it's too much to handle
I'm always there by your side
But in the end you dont care for me
So why do I even try

And I feel so undervalued
And its going to stick
everything I do I regret so
I'm the one to blame for this
