"Everytime Too Hard"

There was a time when I could trust you, back to bad
We stood together could stand any attack...
But that time has gone, I feel,
I feel that time has gone, I feel,
I feel that time has gone
The threat is real.
I took some time to see right through your fuckin' lies,
I'm sick all your alibies as I see you beatin' the air (you greedy bastard)
Whatever I say you would never care...

Everyone wants all for one but one for all seems everytime too hard

Finally you got me believe in your promises
But all the words
All your smiles were just your traps
You think your life's about all for one,
All for one, bat watch your back or your life might be gone...

Can't play the games you play
I think we do not feel the same way
This is just the end of our game
Nothing left to say
