I just might find a solution in time
And I found out something that you never did
Never said and never could
And it makes you scared to know
Nowhere to run to, Nowhere to hide

I heard you screaming, all hope is lost for now
And I heard you call out in time

I found the day the world would end
And where you'll be and how you'll go
And it makes you scared to know
Nowhere to run to, Nowhere to hide

(Crash down, crash down, crash down
Crash down into the sunlight, the sunlight
The sunlight, the sunlight came crashing down)

I heard you screaming, all hope is lost for now
And I heard you call out in time

I heard you screaming, all hope is lost for now
And I heard you call out in time

Who's wrong, (who's wrong), who's wrong
When the sun came crashing down?
