Who's to say the way I am
Is not to blame on hating love
Let's be tragic, let's be sad
These eyes can't seem to see the way I am

All for love and all for love
You wait, wait too long and all for love

Cry and sob while you wait for him
This kind of love won't last, it never did

What if this had never happened?
What if we had never seen the light of day?
What if this had never happened?
What if we had never met at all?

All for love and all for love
You wait too long and all for love
You wait too long

All for love and all for love
You wait, wait too long and all for love

What if this had never happened?
What if we had never seen the light of day?
What if this had never happened?
What if we had never met at all?
