What a strange thing to say
As you pass me
On your way out
And all the things
I had in mind for you and me

Well, say something new
Well, say something new
Something new

What a strange thing to do
As you passed me
On your way out, your way out
And all the things
I had in mind for you and me

Well, say something new
Well, something new
Something new

But something you do
But something you do
Something you do

Well, say something new
Well, something new
Something new

But something you do
But something you do
Something you do

Say something new
Say something new
About you, about you, about you
