your words are crumbling at the seams so go ahead and say that this is all a dream all we are, is another wordless page in a book of memories will i be the first thing that you see every time you wake?
why would i be trying so fucking hard if you werent worth the wait?

and i know, i know its never easy
i know its never easy
and i know, that ill lose you completely but i wont lose control and ive been wondering why it seems nothing good can be reality all we are, is another nameless face entwined in destiny youre everything, just tell me when to breathe just tell me when to breathe im coming clean, just give me what i need just give me what i need

and i know, i know its never easy
