i'm a deer in the headlights on a friday night and i'm thinking i might have made a mistake i might have made a mistake she said "stay for a little while longer, and i'll make it worth your time, i'll make it worth your time" and i should tell her "no" and that i really have to go but we both know i won't this feels so wrong, she's taking it off of course i play along but what would you do, if you only knew what im getting in to

can you taste her on my lips?
cause i can feel her on my fingertips you're wasting all of your time on me cause we both know that i'm not coming clean and i could say i'm sorry but that won't make this right no, that won't make this right i should have let her know, that i had a girl but still i wanted her i should have closed the door, and left her wanting more but i'm gonna give her what she's looking for now i can't turn away, or find the words to say to make this right

can you taste her on my lips?
cause i can feel her on my fingertips
you're wasting all of your time on me cause you know, and i know i'm not coming clean
