I'm inside, I think you're gonna help me out
Should I trust the reason that I doubt
My loss, your gain

I look up, I'm tryin' to but my neck hurts
I'm still numb and yet the danger lurks
My loss, your gain

There are prices to pay
There is nothing to say
My loss, your gain

When I'm weak I always look down to my feet
That's when my eyes are closed
My loss, your gain

There are prices to pay
There is nothing to say
My loss, your gain

There are prices to pay
There are prices to pay
There are prices to pay
There are prices to pay

There are prices to pay
There are prices to pay
There are prices to pay
