I froze up when I left myself
you wanna talk about cold?
Have you ever been so chilled your heart your heart was stuck to your bones Do you want to know what I hate to feel?
Grab your raincoat, start the engine and drive around the block for another year

Take this Veil
I am through with this hiding out you can think what you think about me

I've got a lotus in my heart roots wrap around and connect deep down past the words I form or the things I've thought
And while we're all gathered round like so, I'm gonna try and let a bit of that deep down part of me show
Do you want to know what I hate to fear drop your raincoat, kill the engine and sit around the house for another year

Take this veil...

Oh...I've done it again I lost all my power inside one reaction Oh...Like radium to lead things change and they will change again

Take this veil...
